Subject: Submission - critical minerals

My submission is opposed to the mining on minerals - even critical minerals, in our small - coastal nation. We do not have the ofo tolerate, mitigate or mediate on the effects of mineral extractions - and find it interesting to see that this submission request by the Ministry is too similar in time frame to that of the Govt and its select committee process, to not warrant consideration of both its merits and the concerns raised in the same verbal hearings and written submissions.

We have already mined our environment in the past, seeking so-called "essential" minerals for extraction - for both economic gain, for industry, but it has often proven to be fruitless - or fruitful.

As mentioned earlier, we have an issue with remediation or cleanup of perverse outcomes - whether it be on land, or in our coastal marine area.

I oppose the exploration or, the fracking, extraction of and subsequent dust, discharge, pollutants and recovery of any of these minerals listed, in NZ - whether that be on land, or within our Economic Zone at sea.
