Thank you for your email of 23 October 2024 to the Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment (MBIE) requesting, under the Official Information Act 1982 (the Act), the following:

How many people have been deported from New Zealand in 2024 to date, and the years 2023, 2022, 2021 and 2020?

What were the reasons for each deportation in 2024 to date, and the years 2023, 2022, 2021 and 2020? (for example, in 2024 so far 10 people were deported for overstaying a Visa, 5 people for committing criminal offences, etc)

What countries were people deported to in 2024 to date, and the years 2023, 2022, 2021 and 2020? (For example, in 2024 so far 10 people have been deported to Australia, 5 people to India, etc).

Our response

People coming to New Zealand need to have a valid visa and comply with their visa conditions.

Compliance Officers engage with individuals who may be unlawfully in New Zealand without a visa or in breach of their visa conditions. They assess the severity of the case and prioritise cases where there is higher risk of immigration harm.

Not every case will result in a deportation order or deportation liability notice. Our approach is tailored based on each migrant's personal circumstance to address situations effectively and promote compliance.

Options include:

- Working with people to voluntarily depart New Zealand
- Deporting people from New Zealand
- Making people liable for deportation
- Issuing employers with infringement notices
- Supporting individuals to regularise their immigration status so they can remain here lawfully
- Informing and educating people – providing accessible information and making it easy for people to do the right thing.

We serve Deportation Liability Notices and Deportation Orders, where appropriate, to people who may be liable for deportation because of criminal activity of other public interest factors or being unlawfully in New Zealand.

Most people depart voluntarily when we contact them, and we encourage them to leave the country voluntarily or, if they can, get a new visa to remain here lawfully, in the first instance. A voluntary departure does not preclude people returning to New Zealand if they are able to obtain the necessary visa, but this will depend on the individual circumstances.

How many people have been deported from New Zealand in 2024 to date, and the years 2023, 2022, 2021 and 2020?

The table below shows the total number of people who have been deported from New Zealand broken down by deportation type and calendar year.

Year	Deportation type			Total
	Client deported	Client self-deported	Voluntary departure
2020	216	197	331	744
2021	202	160	209	571
2022	191	217	267	675

2024 (to 13 November 2024)	307	228	360	895
Total	1,160	1,037	1,415	3,612

Deportation — A person who is unlawfully in New Zealand who has been served a deportation order and departs New Zealand, or a temporary visa holder who was made liable for deportation and departs New Zealand after the date when they may be served with a deportation order.

Self-deportation — A person who is unlawfully in New Zealand who departs New Zealand of their own volition and at no cost to the Ministry after the date when the person may be served with a deportation order, but they have not been served with such an order.

Voluntary departure — A person who is unlawfully in New Zealand or is a temporary visa holder who was made liable for deportation and departs of their own volition and at no cost to the Ministry prior to the date when the person may be served with a deportation order.

What were the reasons for each deportation in 2024 to date, and the years 2023, 2022, 2021 and 2020? (for example, in 2024 so far 10 people were deported for overstaying a Visa, 5 people for committing criminal offences, etc)
